

A vintage colorized postcard of a street scene in Copenhagen, Denmark. The street is lined with multi-story buildings. On the left, a building has a sign that reads "st Püttkammer". On the right, a building has a sign that reads "S. M. U." and another sign that reads "Destillation &amp; Liqueur Fabrik". A large, ornate building with a red roof and a clock tower is visible in the background. People are walking on the street, and there are horse-drawn carriages. The sky is blue with some clouds.
