

A color photograph of the interior of St. Marienkirche in Stolp. The view is from the side of the nave, looking towards the altar. The architecture is Gothic, featuring high vaulted ceilings with ribbed arches. The walls are white with prominent red brickwork in the arches and along the upper sections. On the left, a large, ornate red brick pillar is visible. In the center, a large, multi-tiered brass chandelier hangs from the ceiling. The floor is covered with dark wooden pews. In the background, the altar area is visible, featuring a white altar cloth and various religious objects. A large, ornate brass chandelier hangs from the ceiling. The overall atmosphere is one of a grand, historic church interior.
